Job 6:10 Then should I yet have comfort; yea,
I would harden myself in sorrow: let him not spare; for I have not concealed the words of the Holy One.
†Then should I yet have comfort; Yea, I would exult in pain that spareth not: For I have not denied the words of the Holy One.
‡And be it still my consolation; Yea, let me exult in pain that spareth not, That I have not denied the words of the Holy One.

9:19 If I speak of strength, lo, he is strong:
and if of judgment, who shall set me a time to plead?
†If we speak of the strength of the mighty, lo, he is there! And if of judgement, who will appoint me a time?
‡If we speak of strength, lo, he is mighty! And if of judgment, who, saith he, will summon me?

19:26 And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God:
†And after my skin hath been thus destroyed, Yet from my flesh shall I see God:
‡And after my skin, even this body, is destroyed, Then without my flesh shall I see God:

39:13 Gavest thou the goodly wings unto the peacocks? or wings and feathers unto the ostrich?
†The wing of the ostrich rejoiceth: But are her pinions and feathers kindly?
‡The wings of the ostrich wave proudly; But are they the pinions and plumage of love?

Isa 53: 8 He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.
†By oppression and judgement he was taken away: and as for his generation, who among them considered that he was cut off out of the land of the living? for the transgression of my people was he stricken.
‡By oppression and judgment he was taken away: and as for his life, who shall recount that he was cut off out of the land of the living for the transgression of my people to whom the stroke was due?

66:16 For by fire and by his sword will the LORD plead with all flesh:

Jer 2:34 I have not found it by secret search,
but upon all these.
†I have not found it at the place of breaking in, but upon all these.

13:21 What wilt thou say when he shall punish thee? for thou hast taught them to be captains, and as chief over thee:
shall not sorrows take thee, as a woman in travail?
†What wilt thou say, when he shall set thy friends over thee as head, seeing thou thyself hast instructed them against thee? shall not sorrows take hold of thee, as of a woman in travail?
‡What wilt thou say, when he shall set over thee as head those whom thou hast thyself taught to be friends to thee? shall not sorrows take hold of thee, as of a woman in travail?

Eze 41: 7 And there was an enlarging, and a winding about still upward to the side chambers: for the winding about of the house went still upward round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house was still upward, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.
*And the side-chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber.

Na 1:10 For while they be folden together as thorns, and while they are drunken as drunkards, they shall be devoured as stubble fully dry.
†For though they be like tangled thorns, and be drenched as it were in their drink, they shall be devoured utterly as dry stubble.
‡For entangled like thorns and drunken as with their drink they are consumed utterly as dry stubble.

PREFACE.

THIS work, although prepared as a companion to the Exhaustive Concordance, to which it is specially adapted, is here paged and printed so that it can be bound separately, in the belief that a brief and simple Dictionary of the Biblical Hebrew and Chaldee will be useful to students and others, who do not care at all times to consult a more copious and elaborate Lexicon; and it will be particularly serviceable to many who are unable to turn conveniently and rapidly, amid the perplexities and details of foreign characters with which the pages of Gesenius and Fürst bristle, to the fundamental and essential points of information that they are seeking. Even scholars will find here, not only all of a strictly verbal character which they most frequently want in ordinary consultation of a lexicon, but numerous original suggestions, relations, and distinctions, carefully made and clearly put, which are not unworthy of their attention, especially in the affinities of roots and the classification of meanings. The portable form and moderate cost of the book, it is hoped, will facilitate its use with all classes. The vocabulary is complete as to the ground-forms that actually occur in the biblical text (or Kethib), with the pointing that properly belongs to them. Their designation by numbers will especially aid those who are not very familiar with the original language, and the Anglicizing and pronunciation of the words will not come amiss to multitudes who have some acquaintance with it. The addition of the renderings in the common version will greatly contribute to fixing and extending the varied significations and applications of the Hebrew and Chaldee words, as well as to correcting their occasionally wrong translations. On this account, as well as for the sake of precision and to prevent repetition, the use of the same terms in the preceding definitions has been avoided wherever practicable. The design of the volume, being purely lexical, does not include grammatical, archæological, or exegetical details, which would have swelled its size and encumbered its plan.

By observing the subjoined directions, in the associated use of the Main and Comparative Concordances, the reader will have substantially a Concordance-Dictionary of both the Authorized and the Revised English Versions, as well as of the Hebrew Bible.

PLAN OF THE BOOK.

1. All the original words are treated in their alphabetical Hebrew order, and are numbered regularly from the first to the last, each being known throughout by its appropriate number. This renders reference easy without recourse to the Hebrew characters.

2. Immediately after each word is given its exact equivalent in English letters, according to the system of transliteration laid down in the scheme here following, which is substantially that adopted in the Common English Version, only more consistently and uniformly carried out; so that the word could readily be turned back again into Hebrew from the form thus given it.

3. Next follows the precise pronunciation, according to the usual English mode of sounding syllables, so plainly indicated that none can fail to apprehend and apply it. The most approved sounds are adopted, as laid down in the annexed scheme of articulation, and in such a way that any good Hebraist would immediately recognize the word if so pronounced, notwithstanding the minor variations current among scholars in this respect.

4. Then ensues a tracing of the etymology, radical meaning, and applied signification of the word, justly but tersely analyzed and expressed, with any other important peculiarities in this regard.

5. In the case of proper names, the same method is pursued, and at this point the regular mode of Anglicizing it, after the general style of the Common English Version, is given, and a few words of explanation are added to identify it.

6. Finally (after the punctuation-mark :—) are given all the different renderings of the word in the Authorized English Version, arranged in the alphabetical order of the leading terms, and conveniently condensed according to the explanations given below.

By searching out these various renderings in the MAIN CONCORDANCE, to which this Dictionary is designed as a companion, and noting the passages to which the same number corresponding to that of any given Hebrew word is attached in the marginal column, the reader, whether acquainted with the original language or not, will obtain a complete Hebrew Concordance also, expressed in the words of the Common English Version. This is an advantage which no other Concordance or Lexicon affords.

HEBREW ARTICULATION.

THE following explanations are sufficient to show the method of transliterating Hebrew words into English adopted in this Dictionary.

1. The Hebrew is read from right to left. The Alphabet consists of 22 letters (and their variations), which are all regarded as consonants, being enunciated by the aid of certain "points" or marks, mostly beneath the letters, and which serve as vowels. There is no distinction of capitals, italics, etc.

2. The letters are as follows:

No.	Form.	Name.		Transliteration and Power.
1.	א	'Aleph	(aw'-lef)	' unappreciable
2.	ב	Bêyth	(bayth)	b
3.	ג	Gîymel	(ghee'-mel)	g hard = ɣ
4.	ד	Dâleth	(daw'-leth)	d [cent
5.	ה	Hê'	(hay)	h, often quies-
6.	ו	Vâv	(vawv)	v, or w quies-
7.	ז	Zayin	(zah'-yin)	z, as in zeal [cent
8.	ח	Chêyth	(khayth)	German ch = χ [(nearly kh)
9.	ט	Têyth	(tayth)	t = ת [cent
10.	י	Yôwd	(yode)	y, often quies-
11.	כ, final ך	Kaph	(caf)	k = ק
12.	ל	Lâmed	(law'-med)	l
13.	מ, final ם	Mêm	(mame)	m
14.	נ, final ן	Nûwn	(noon)	n
15.	ס	Çâmek	(saw'-mek)	ç = s sharp = שׂ
16.	ע	'Ayin	(ah'-yin)	' peculiar *
17.	פ, final ף	Phê'	(fay)	ph = f = φ
		Pê'	(pay)	p
18.	צ, final ץ	Tsâdêy	(tsaw-day')	ts
19.	ק	Qôwph	(cofe)	q = k = כ
20.	ר	Rêysh	(raysh)	r
21.	שׂ	Śiyn	(seen)	s sharp = ס = σ
	שׁ	Shîyn	(sheen)	sh
22.	ת	Thâv	(thawv)	th, as in THIN
	ת	Tâv	(tawv)	t = ט = τ [= θ

* The letter 'Ayin, owing to the difficulty experienced by Occidentals in pronouncing it accurately (it is a deep guttural sound, like that made in gargling), is generally neglected (i.e. passed over silently) in reading. We have represented it to the eye (but not exactly to the ear) by the Greek rough breathing (for distinctness and typographical convenience, a reversed apostrophe) in order to distinguish it from 'Âleph, which is likewise treated as silent, being similarly represented by the Greek smooth breathing (the apostrophe).

3. The vowel-points are the following:

Form.*	Name.		Representation and Power.
(ָ)	Qâmêts	(caw-mates')	â, as in ALL
(ַ)	Pattach	(pat'-takh)	a, as in MAN, (fār)
(ֲ)	Sheʷvâ'-Pattach	(she-vaw' pat'-takh)	ă, as in hăt
(ְ)	Tsêrêy	(tsay-ray')	ê, as in thEy = η
(ֵ)	Çegôwl	(seg-ole')	e, as in thEir e, as in mEn = ε
(ֱ)	Sheʷvâ'-Çegôwl	(she-vaw' seg-ole')	ĕ, as in mĕt
(ְ)	Sheʷvâ' †	(she-vaw')	ʷ obscure, as in [avErage silent, as e in madE
(ִ)	Chîyriq	(khee'-rik)	î, as in machIne ‡ i, as in suppliant, [(mîsery, hit)
(ֹ)	Chôwlem §	(kho'-lem)	ô, as in nO = ω
(ָ)	Short Qâmêts ‖		o, as in nor = ο
(ֳ)	Sheʷvâ'-Qâmêts	(she-vaw' caw-mates')	ŏ, as in not
(ֹ)	Shûwrêq *	(shoo-rake')	û, as in crvel
(ֻ)	Qîbbûts *	(kib'-boots)	u, as in full, rūde

* The parenthesis-marks ( ) are given here in order to show the place of the vowel-points, whether below, above, or in the middle of the letter.

† Silent Sheʷvâ' is not represented by any mark in our method of transliteration, as it is understood whenever there is no other vowel-point.

‡ Chîyriq is thus long only when it is followed by a quiescent yôwd (either expressed or implied).

§ Chôwlem is written fully only over Vâv, which is then quiescent (וֹ); but when used "defectively" (without the Vâv) it may be written either over the left-hand corner of the letter to which it belongs, or over the right-hand corner of the following one.

‖ Short Qâmêts is found only in unaccented syllables ending with a consonant sound.

4. A point in the bosom of a letter is called Dâgêsh', and is of two kinds, which must be carefully distinguished.

a. Dâgêsh lenè occurs only in the letters בּ, גּ, דּ, כּ, פּ, תּ, (technically vocalized Bᵉgad'-Kᵉphath',) when they begin a clause or sentence, or are preceded by a consonant sound; and simply has the effect of removing their aspiration.†

b. Dâgêsh fortè may occur in any letter except א, ה, ח, ע or ר; it is equivalent to doubling the letter, and at the same time it removes the aspiration of a Bᵉgad-Kᵉphath letter.‡

5. The Maqqêph' (־), like a hyphen, unites words only for purposes of pronunciation (by removing the primary accent from all except the last of them), but does not affect their meaning or their grammatical construction.

* Shûwrêq is written only in the bosom of Vâv. Sometimes it is said to be "defectively" written (without the Vâv), and then takes the form of Qibbûts, which in such cases is called vicarious.

† In our system of transliteration Dâgêsh lenè is represented only in the letters בּ and תּ, because elsewhere it does not affect the pronunciation (with most Hebraists).

‡ A point in the bosom of הּ is called Mappîyq (mappeek'). It occurs only in the final vowelless letter of a few words, and we have represented it by hh. A Dâgêsh fortè in the bosom of ר may easily be distinguished from the vowel Shûwrêq by noticing that in the former case the letter has a proper vowel-point accompanying it.

It should be noted that both kinds of Dâgêsh are often omitted in writing (being then said to be implied), but (in the case at least of Dâgêsh fortè) the word is (by most Hebraists) pronounced the same as if it were present.

× (multiplication) denotes a rendering in the A. V. that results from an idiom peculiar to the Heb.

° (degree), appended to a Heb. word, denotes a vowel-pointing corrected from that of the text. (This mark is set in Heb. Bibles over syllables in which the vowels of the marg. have been inserted instead of those properly belonging to the text.)

( ) (parenthesis), in the renderings from the A. V., denotes a word or syllable sometimes given in connection with the principal word to which it is annexed.

[ ] (bracket), in the rendering from the A.V., denotes the inclusion of an additional word in the Heb.
